

Living the Dream

Jenny Day started DayDreams in 1987 following a 5-day/5 star corporate weekend to Istanbul. Jenny had been asked by a client from her London based PR consultancy to use her creative skills to organise a special sales incentive for 100 clients. Wearing her PR hat, she then spent two years working for a specialist travel company, promoting Turkey as a destination to the UK media – specifically the first gulet holidays. She led many journalists to Turkey during this period. Intent on sharing the experience with friends, she returned several times with her own private gulet charters on the first Cevri Hasan. These boat parties were so successful that friends told their friends and the word spread. Her dream of offering a style of holiday, once the preserve of the rich and famous, to a wider audience had become a reality and DayDreams became a thriving business.

The Mediterranean and Aegean coastlines are ideal for gulet cruising and sailing. Most of the coastline is still unspoilt, providing many magical moments for that chance encounter with dolphins or a loggerhead turtle. Whether you are exploring the Turkish coastline or Greek Dodecanese islands, you can guarantee an unforgettable holiday.

DayDreams has held exclusivity for the UK on the Cevri Hasans fleet since 1987. Today there are three available for chartering, Cevri Hasan III, IV and V, in addition to the myriad choice of boats available for exclusive private charters. Since the early days of 15-18 metre gulets, we now have a range of sizes from small luxury gulets of 15 metres up to superior deluxe gulets of 47 metres. All our chartering services are tailor-made to suit individual clients and this service extends to land arrangements so that walking wild trails, archaeological tours and hotel stays can be added for an extended holiday.

The idea of bringing together small groups of individuals and couples into gulet parties, enabling single travellers in particular to experience life on board a privately chartered boat continues to be an important feature of the business. Cabins can be booked on these holidays on board the Cevri Hasan III under our Travel Club programme of small group holidays. Jenny Day continues to personally lead some of these gulet holidays. Her in-depth knowledge of the coastline does mean we can still find places off the beaten track to explore, from wild remote anchorages to interesting small villages. There are also a number of land based small group tours to places such as Istanbul, Cappadocia and the recently introduced walking holidays.

As experts in Turkey and Turkish gulets and schooners, Jenny and her team can advise clients about every aspect of their holiday with the aim of providing individuals or groups with a holiday to suit them. We are a safe pair of hands to make your holiday a memorable experience.

“I recreated our favourite family holiday to celebrate my husband’s 70th birthday and all the family joined us for a week. Everyone, with ages from 11 to 79, had a fabulous time. There was enough space for moments of quiet but mainly we partied! The boat was beautiful, the crew were all charming, the food was delicious and the sun shone. Perfect! Luckily I have a big birthday next year!”

Turkish Gulets and Schooners for private charters

DayDreams sources its collection of beautiful wood built gulets and schooners from Bodrum in south west Turkey, one of the most important Turkish towns with a tradition of boat building. Bodrum was also the birthplace of Herodotus and the site of one of the seven wonders of the ancient world - the tomb of King Mausolus. The boats are built in a mixture of woods (pine, teak and mahogany) in a variety of sizes and standards, retaining many of the traditional features from the past, but always incorporating essential modern facilities and comfortable deck areas. They are all maintained to a very high standard.

A week or two aboard one of these romantic vessels really is living a dream. Waited on hand and foot by professional captains, crew and cooks, it is the perfect holiday for any group of people, whether a small family on a limited budget, or a larger group wanting to sail or cruise in style. Ideal for a special anniversary, birthday celebration, honeymoon, or the annual family holiday. We can organise a variety of 'extras' to ensure a wonderful holiday to remember. Our flexible approach means you decide each day what you do and where you go, subject to wind and weather conditions, in consultation with your captain. We only need to fix on your port at the start and finish of your charter. We can also advise on your route and help you to plan an itinerary along the Turkish coast or Greek islands.

Depending on overall size, most boats have spacious cabins, some will have master cabins, but all have en-suite shower rooms including toilets and an air conditioning system. All boats are fitted with the obligatory AIS central tracking system. The full list of 23 luxury and standard gulets plus 8 deluxe gulets can be found with all specifications on our website at www.daydreams-travel.com

The Cevri Hasans, featured throughout this brochure are operated exclusively by DayDreams as part of our fleet. The Cevri Hasan III is used for our Travel Club gulet holidays on which individuals can book on a cabin basis. It is also available for private charters.

Boat rentals start at £4750 per week for a standard gulet in May, rising to £39000 for a super deluxe gulet in August. Details of what's included in our prices can be found on our list of boat rentals.

Delicious Turkish food is prepared by the cook or chef and all meals are eaten 'al fresco' on deck, except in early and late season, when you might prefer to use the comfortable salon. We don't operate a boat bar system. We liaise with you over your drinks and stock the boat in advance of your arrival. You then pay at cost when you arrive on board. You can also book on a full board basis and pay in advance.

Tailor-made, land based activities can be organised to extend a boat charter – archaeological tours, a short walking holiday in either the Taurus Mountains, Fethiye area or North Aegean region or you might want to stay put at one of the numerous all-inclusive hotel resorts.

“Thank you for arranging such a great holiday. Captain Taner and his crew looked after us amazingly well and we wanted for nothing. The food and hospitality were second to none. It was a success from start to finish.”

Walking & Hiking Holidays In Turkey

We have researched two guided one week walking holidays plus a short itinerary using paths mostly off the beaten track. They have been designed for average walkers who like to enjoy the culture and nature of the area as they walk. Places of interest and at least one archaeological site have been included. For more details contact our office.

Coastal Itineraries

Turkey is a fascinating and friendly country where you can soak up the history of ancient civilizations, savour the atmosphere of market towns and villages mixed with as much time as you can take in the sun. Whether on land or sea the scenery is spectacular. The Mediterranean coast is surprisingly unspoilt with large building developments restricted to the large towns of Bodrum, Marmaris, Fethiye and Antalya. The big advantage of travelling on board a gulet is the ability to reach remote anchorages, archaeological sites and deserted coves with often no other boat in sight. Our boats will sail (winds permitting) or motor along your chosen route. There are a variety of itineraries to follow depending on your interests. We can also offer a number of itineraries combining the Turkish coastline with the Greek Dodecanese Islands which stretch from Samos in the north down to Rhodes further south. Shopaholics will find plenty of scope for bargaining in all the main harbour towns.

BODRUM-BODRUM

The Gokova gulf

You could spend a week or ten days here slowly savouring some of the most beautiful and breath-taking scenery anywhere along the coast. The Gokova gulf is surrounded by high mountains with just a couple of villages to explore. It's an ideal area for sailing enthusiasts and it is certainly the best area for the hot months of July and August, as there are frequently strong winds to help you through the heat. Early and late summer is a good time for walking along the numerous forestry trails easily accessible from the shore.

BODRUM-MARMARIS

The Hisaranu gulf

This route has a bit of everything. You can visit Knidos, an important archaeological site dating back to ancient Caria, interesting small villages, the small town of Datca and beautiful bays in the Hisaranu Gulf. You can either continue along the coast to finish at Marmaris or return to Bodrum which is closer to Bodrum airport.

MARMARIS TO GOCEK/FETHIYE

An ideal one week itinerary with numerous bays and coves in the Fethiye Gulf combined with a few areas for walking. En route from Marmaris, stop at Ekincik where you can pick up a water taxi to visit the ancient Carian city of Caunus. This route can also be combined with a stretch from Bodrum making a ten day itinerary, missing out Marmaris and cruising direct to the Fethiye area.

FETHIYE GULF TO ANTALYA

(The Lycian Coastline)

Without a doubt the best stretch along the south west coast for archaeological sites from the Lycian period accessible from the sea. The Taurus mountain range often provides a spectacular backdrop. This route can be broken up into sections depending on whether you have one week, ten days or two weeks to spare. In seven days you could travel from Fethiye to Kas, incorporating the Kekova area. With ten days you could travel on to finish at Finike where you can take a day to drive up into the Taurus mountains and visit the marvellous Lycian city of Arykanda or with two weeks continue all the way to Antalya.

THE DODECANESE

Northern Route

There are many Greek islands close to the Turkish coastline which are accessible by our Turkish flag boats from either Kusadasi, Bodrum or Datca. We have researched a number of different itineraries to explore these varied and lovely islands – Samos, Fourni, Arki, Patmos, Agathonisi, Leros, Kalymnos and Kos.

THE DODECANESE

Southern Route

Starting at Bodrum you can cross to Kos, and then explore Nissyros, Tilos and Symi, returning to Turkey at Datca, or you could continue to Rhodes finishing on the Turkish coast at Marmaris.

You will find more information about these areas on our website. More detailed itineraries are available from the office: email jennyday@daydreams-travel.com

Travel Club

SMALL GROUP HOLIDAYS

For Single Travellers and Couples

Jenny Day has been bringing together individuals and couples into small group holidays for over 29 years. Centred on Turkey and the Greek Dodecanese islands, a large number of these holidays have been personally led by her. Over the years, a loyal following of DayDreamers have joined her in exploring new places and developing new holiday locations. Her idea of continuing this concept with the formation of The Travel Club was launched in 2014 with holidays on land and sea. All holidays are escorted by a tour leader.

There is no charge for joining The Travel Club, but we do ask for some information from those participating in the holidays: your name, age, contact details, your profession and/or interests. We do not pass this information on to third parties, it is for our internal use only. We might also ask for information on your fitness to travel if it is appropriate to the holiday. Our philosophy of bringing together small groups of like-minded people to achieve a good social mix remains a critical factor in the success of these holidays. You can of course expect to receive the close attention to detail which is a hallmark of our company.

Gulet Holidays On Board Cevri Hasan III

We have been organising small group holidays to Turkey for over 29 years, particularly gulet holidays along the Turkish coastline. The emphasis has always been on achieving a 'house party' style atmosphere, with an eclectic mix of single travellers and couples, who enjoy good company and delicious food while exploring the beautiful and diverse terrain. The Cevri Hasan III, under the direction of captain/owner Mustafa, has been home to these holidays since 1992. Cabins can be booked on an individual basis. Along the extensive coastline, there are wild walks along deserted trails, remote villages and archaeological sites to explore, plus numerous beautiful anchorages. All holidays are accompanied by a tour leader.

Imagine waking in the morning with the sun streaming through the porthole and slipping over the side of the boat for a swim before breakfast. And what a breakfast; irresistible Turkish yoghurt and honey, eggs any way you want, fruit, cheeses, olives, luscious tomatoes and local breads. Anchor up, off you go to a beautiful bay for a swim, or potter about on a canoe. A delicious lunch follows, then more swimming and relaxing in the sun. Winds permitting, the sails might go up, as we move along the coast to another magical setting for dinner and an overnight stay. The very best of Anatolian home cooking is a feature of our holidays with a generous budget to ensure you dine in style. Delicious chicken, fish and meat dishes using local ingredients, barbecues, numerous mezze, fresh fruit and salads, plus local specialities. Vegetarians are easily catered for.

A variety of itineraries are carefully planned, catering to the varying interests of DayDreams travellers. Over the years, we have researched many wonderful itineraries around the Greek Dodecanese islands and along the Turkish coastline. Jenny has been leading groups in this region for over 29 years. Her considerable knowledge does make a difference to your holiday experience. We are able to organise visits to archaeological sites accessible from the coast, lead walkers along isolated forestry trails and explore small villages en route.

ISTANBUL

where east meets west

A few days staying in this wonderful city in a restored Ottoman house will enable you to visit some of the world's greatest museums and buildings. It is a short walk to Topkapi, once home to Ottoman sultans; the 5th C. St Sophia; the Blue Mosque with its six minarets and blue Iznik tiles; the Byzantine cistern; numerous museums and, of course, the Grand Bazaar with its myriad streets of shops and, not to be missed, a trip up the Bosphorus for a marvellous view of the Istanbul skyline.

ISTANBUL TAILOR-MADE TO SUIT YOU

You could combine a few days in Istanbul with a gulet holiday or extend a tailor-made tour of other regions of this fascinating country. We will advise you on your itinerary so you can visit most of the major museums, palaces and places of interest. You could also fit in a private boat cruise or ferry along the Bosphorus and of course try some of the wonderful local restaurants. (Foodies will find a diverse and fantastic range of restaurants throughout the old and new city).

There are numerous boutique hotels to choose from in the old city, modern style in Beyoglu and luxury along the Bosphorus shore. Your itinerary can be tailored to suit you. Here is an example:

Day 1 Arrival at Istanbul Attaturk airport. Private transfer to your hotel.

Day 2 Full day walking tour of the Hippodrome, Blue Mosque, Haghia Sophia and Yerebatin Byzantine Cistern. After a lunch break, visit the Suleymaniye Mosque by minibus and walk through the streets to the Egyptian Spice Market – time for a bit of shopping in this fascinating quarter close to the Golden Horn.

Day 3 Tour Topkapi Palace, the Treasury and Harem in the morning. Afternoon free for shopping in the Grand Bazaar, a visit to the Archaeology museum, or you might want to take a tram ride to view more of the city. Jenny Day recommends the traditional Turkish dance night at the Hodja Pasha Culture Centre.

Day 4 Bosphorus by public ferry – Asian shore. Full day tour. Drive through the old city to the Egyptian spice market passing Ottoman monuments en-route. Take the local ferry for an unforgettable excursion between the two continents of Europe and Asia, cruising past the last built Ottoman palaces such as Dolmabahce and Beylerbeyi, numerous 19/20th century mansions and beautiful wooden kiosks. Disembark at Sariyer, a fishing village close to the entrance into the Black Sea. After a lunch break, drive to the Church of Chora, a magnificent restored Byzantine building with fine 13th Century mosaics and exceptional frescoes. Drive through Fener and Balat localities full of old wooden houses, churches and synagogues dating from the Byzantine and Ottoman periods, to the Suleymaniye mosque. Return to your hotel.

For more detailed itineraries and quotations, contact jennyday@daydreams-travel.com or go to our website.

“What a fantastic time we had in Istanbul. Your organisation was superb, especially Gokcen Art who was truly wonderful as our guide, taking us around not just to the major sites, but also to little quirky things. Going the extra mile if you like. Oh and thank you for the bottle of wine you sent via the hotel. An unforgettable honeymoon”.

Russell Smith and his wife travelled to Istanbul in May 2015.

Turkey

Tailor Made To Suit You

Whether you prefer to keep your feet on dry land or combine a gulet holiday with a land-based tour, we can help you to plan and organise an itinerary to take in several different areas of this vast country. There are so many wonderful experiences to be had. Here are just a few ideas to choose from.

Wherever you journey in modern Turkey you will find an extraordinary variety of scenery, cultural experiences and ancient history. From dry arid plains to high mountains and verdant valleys you can guarantee a memorable holiday.

Ephesus and the Ionian cities – southern Aegean

Several important cities from the ancient world – Ephesus, Priene, Miletos and the Temple of Apollo at Didyma - are within striking distance of either Selcuk or Kusadasi. Three days based here would enable you to visit these important archaeological sites. Even with large numbers of tourists around, you can still appreciate the spectacular, well preserved city of Ephesus. Ongoing excavations ensure there is always something new to see. Extend your time to make a longer tour and you could drive to Pamukkale, famous for its extraordinary landscape and visit ancient Hierapolis followed by the marvellous city of Aphrodisias. The latter is a remarkable site with a special atmosphere, in the middle of nowhere but with numerous well-preserved buildings and sculptures from the Greek and Roman periods. The most stunning sight is the huge stadium. If you don't have time to include them all, we will plan an itinerary to suit you.

Central Anatolia – Cappadocia

Driving from Ankara, the capital of Turkey, north east to visit the Hittite city of Hattusas and then across central Turkey to Cappadocia will give you an unforgettable experience. Before leaving Ankara, don't miss the Mausoleum of Kemal Attaturk and the Museum of Anatolian Civilisations, a restored old bazaar. The museum holds unique and priceless collections dating back to the prehistoric era with relics of Hittites, Assyrians, Phrygians, Urartians and the Selcuk Turkish period.

Cappadocia is unique. This region was formed out of the volcanic lava from Mount Erciyes and Mount Hasan. The tufa, lava, ash and mud which covered the area, was eroded by rain and wind creating a spectacular landscape. Referred to as fairy chimneys by locals, the rock cones of Cavusin village, Urgup and the Goreme valley are extraordinary. Walk through the Zelve Valley with its settlements and caves from ancient times, particularly in April when there are carpets of spring flowers. There is a great deal to see so a minimum of three days is recommended, more if you like walking.

Antalya and Pamphylia

Antalya is a coastal city surrounded by the Taurus mountains. It is also close to the excellent golf resort at Belek. As there is an international airport, it is a good starting point for anyone wanting to drive along the Lycian coast all the way up to Fethiye. There are four ancient cities worth visiting in the immediate area: Termessos, perched on the side of Mount Solymos with staggering views; Aspendos with one of the best preserved Roman theatres in the region, used for an opera season in June; Perge, founded around 1000 BC, with impressive Roman remains; and the remote ruined city of Selge at the top of the Koprulu Canyon.
